

IYF Free Skills Training Academy Proposal

Introduction

In the heart of Ghana, amid the hustle and bustle of the cities and the quiet resilience of the rural countryside lies a powerful yet untold story - its Youth. While they make up the largest portion of the population, they remain among the most marginalized and overlooked. Brimming with potential, dreams, and energy, many young people face cycles of poverty, unemployment, lack of opportunities, and disenfranchisement.

For those born into disadvantaged families, access to quality education, healthcare, or opportunities to develop their skills is minimal.

The reality is harsh. Unemployment rates remain high, and for those lacking formal education or training, prospects are even slimmer. Some turn to petty crimes or gangs for a sense of belonging, while others wrestle with the temptations of substance abuse. The lack of hope is evident, and their frustrations manifest in juvenile delinquency and risky behaviors. Yet, deep down, these youths still carry the hope that something better awaits them.

International Youth Fellowship

IYF Mission & Vision

International Youth Fellowship was established as a worldwide youth organization and international NGO in 2001, to raise leaders with a global insight through youth education, activities, and provide realistic solutions to problems in the global village.

Mission

Challenge

The Challenge to Overcome

One's limitations and experience infinite possibilities

Change

Pursuit of True Change

in life that begins from the heart

Cohesion

A True Spirit of Cohesion

that transcends ethnicity, nationality, language and religion.

Vision

Raise Leaders

To nurture leaders who possess intellect, humble character, and global insight for the next generation.

Social Service

We offer realistic solutions, striving to enhance human welfare through diverse social services.

International Exchange

We promote mutual understanding and unity among nations through various international exchanges.

IYF Youth Empowerment Initiative

In response to the challenges faced by youth, the International Youth Fellowship (IYF) launched the Youth Empowerment Initiative—a transformative program aimed at equipping young people with the mindset, skills, and values to overcome life's hardships and become future leaders. Through this initiative, participants are introduced to the "world of the heart," where they learn the power of mindset, develop strong character, and build the resilience necessary to face adversity with confidence.

There are various programs in the Youth Empowerment Initiative

1. Every Saturday, IYF offers free skills training academies designed to empower youth in entrepreneurship and self-employment. Our diverse range of classes includes ICT, Fashion Design, Pastry, Camera Operations, Music, Dance, Mindset Education, French, Business and Marketing and more.

We provide a comprehensive 3-month certificate course covering these topics, with sessions held weekly on Saturdays and Sundays. Participants will also benefit from internship and placement opportunities through IYF, our partner organizations, schools, and established MOUs.

TECHNICAL COURSES	COMPUTER & MEDIA	TALENT COURSES	LANGUAGES	LEADERSHIP COURSES
-Fashion Design -Pastry -Welding and Fabrication -Electronics Engineering Technology -Electrical Engineering Technology -Building Construction Technology -Automotive Engineering Technology -Eco-friendly Detergent Making -Floral Decoration -Carpentry -Survey and mapping	-Computer Networking Systems -Computer Software Development -Computer Database Administration -Camera Operation -Business and Marketing	-Music -Dance	-Korean -French	- Mindset Education - Theology

The Construction Academy course is a full-time, 3 month program that includes accommodation, designed to support the hands-on nature of the training. A dedicated space has been allocated for building the accommodation facility.

Upon completion, we connect trainees with our branches and supply essential equipment, such as interlocking brick-making machines. We also provide carpentry workshop tools and electrical materials for youth groups and others. This support extends to all training programs.

3. The IYF Youth Empowerment Initiative training follows a cohort system, with membership ID cards issued to graduates, allowing them to access the facilities for their projects and request support.
4. Since IYF provides free programs, there is a risk that some youth may not take it seriously. To address this, we've implemented an attendance management system. Each participant receives a passport booklet to track their attendance, and bonus points are awarded to those who exceed expectations and engage in community service and volunteer activities organized during their training.
5. All trainees are required to attend mandatory life skills and leadership mindset training alongside their program. Certificates are awarded to those who successfully complete the academy, meeting the established assessment standards.
6. We have teachers and assistants from partner colleges, TVET institutions, and alumni from previous cohorts placed as interns, all of whom are remunerated by IYF.

Collaborating with Strategic Partners and Sponsors

107,551+ Youths are eager to enroll in IYF's free skills training Academy this October, but the demand far exceeds our current resources.

Our courses empower participants with essential skills, helping them achieve self-reliance and succeed in the modern workforce. The growing demand for our programs means we need more equipment, including desktops and beauty supplies, as well as access to financial literacy resources. By partnering with us, you can help provide the necessary tools to unlock the potential of these young Individuals and turn it into tangible success.

Digital and Creative Economy

Digital skills are a key enabler for Inclusion and the efficient use, adoption, and creation of digital technologies in Africa's growing -digital economy. Such technologies can transform the nature of both formal and informal work across various sectors.

We have established GBS TV media academy to train hands-on skills in Camera operations, Video Editing, digital skills etc. We also offer internships to students in universities and colleges.

Construction Academy (Housing & settlement)

The program offers full board, including accommodation. Successful applicants reside at the center throughout the duration of their training

Promoting Environmental Preservation through Education and Media Initiatives

We have established and run environmental clubs in partner schools, colleges, and universities to foster a spirit of environmental preservation through volunteer service. Our initiatives include tree planting, land reclamation, water conservation, and community clean-up activities.

Through GBS TV, we promote environmental campaigns, with programs that highlight key issues related to climate change and sustainability.

Free Medical Service

Throughout the year, we provide free medical services across various counties through the Good News Medical Volunteers. This initiative not only addresses immediate healthcare needs in underserved communities but also empowers them to become self-sufficient, ultimately enabling these communities to make significant contributions to the broader world.

Hospital - We are in the process of opening a Level 4 hospital, a community-based health center that will provide affordable medical services. It will also serve as a cancer research center.

Paramedic Volunteers Paramedic volunteers from the IYF Weekend Academy assist in delivering healthcare services at the grassroots level.
